PEACE PALACE CORNER STONE

Is Laid in Washington With Imposing Ceremony

BEAUTIFUL BUILDING

Will be Erected for Future Home of International Bureau of American Republics.

ANDREW CARNEGIE IS CHIEF DONOR

Washington, May 12.—The greater portion of the western hemisphere was officially represented Monday at the laying of the cornerstone of the new monument to Secretary Root's Pan-American idea—the future home of the International Bureau of American Republics. President Roosevelt and Secretary Root were the spokesmen for the interest of the United States in the enterprise. Ambassador Joaquim Nabuco, of Brazil, dean of the Latin-American diplomatic corps, spoke for the other countries, and Andrew Carnegie, benefactor of the institution to the extent of $750.000, delivered an address. Cardinal Gibbons, of Baltimore, delivered the invocation, and Bishop Cranston, of the Methodist Episcopal church, dean of the Protestant clery in the District of Columbia, delivered the benediction.

Between the speeches the Marine band played a medley of the national airs of the twenty-one different countries represented by the bureaus. The exercises bagan at 3 p. m., with a short speech by Director of the Bureau John Barrett, who presented Secretary Root as chairman of the executive board and presiding officer of the day. A long copper box was placed under the stone slab. Coins, messages, photographs and souvenirs of the countries were included in the cache.

The building which, with the site, is to cost $1,000,000, will be erected on ground formerly occupied by the historic Van Nesse mansion, next to the hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution. It is to embody the characteristic of Latin-American architecture. The most striking feature will be a large patio, roofed with glass, where will be gathered tropical and other plants of the western hemisphere. There will be a hall of ambassadors, which may be used as an assembly room. The rest of the building will be occupied by offices of the bureau, together with the Columbus Memorial Library of American Republics. It will also contain a monument to Secretary Root. The Bureau of American Republics was founded seventeen years ago at the first Pan-American conference, presided over by James G. Elaine, Secretary Root took it up and made his memorable visit to South America in 1905.

Eye Shot Out by Arrow.

While playing "Indian" at Mackeyville last Tuesday Clair Walizer an 8-year-old boy had his right eye shot out by a wooden arrow. The boys who were playing kept the accident quiet till the next day at noon when the eye became very painful and Dr. J. M. Damm was called. He advised that the injured boy be taken to the Lock Haven hospital, where it was decided that the sight was entirely destroyed. Thomas Walizer, an uncle of the boy, and Dr. Damm took him to Williamsport Friday to consult Dr. Haskell, an eye expert, who after an examination decided all that could be done was to remove the eye. The boy was returned to the Lock Haven hospital and the eye was removed. The accident was a very unfortunate one for the boy.

Bargain Hunter Injured.

Does it pay to advertise? The Bernkopf department store at Wellsboro thinks so and Mrs. James Cummings, of the same place, is painfully reminded of the fact every time she moves. The Wellsboro Gazette tells about it as follows:

"During the scramble for shirt waists at a bargain counter in the Bernkopf department store last Saturday morning, Mrs. James Cummings was crowded and jostled by the bargain hunters until she toppled and fell down the stairway to the basement. She was badly bruised but fortunately escaped serious injury. Notwithstanding the accident the grab for shirt waists was continued until the entire supply was exhausted."

CLARK CHASE FOUND DEAD.

Clearfield Sportsman Succumbs After Fierce Struggle With the Elements.

Clearfield, May 8.—Passing by hundreds of searchers who have been looking for a week for the whereabouts of W. Clark Chase, his body was found this morning by W. P. Livingstone and Albert Kline near Shaw's mills, about five miles from here.

Buffeted by snow and rain Chase, who was a son of John M. Chase, postmaster of Clearfield, had madly fought his way through thick brush and swamp land in a vain effort to reach Shaw's Mills, where a family lived. For many yards the brush was broken by the young fisherman showing that Chase had made a desperate and despairing effort to reach safety.

It was evident that he was seeking shelter from the storm which raged last Thursday night, April 30th, the day he left town. It is thought that during the snow storm and severe weather of that night that Chase lost his way in the mountain, and then retraced his steps down Stone run, to Lick run, and on down that stream to the point where he was found, which was only about 30 feet from the road and a hundred feet from Lick run. Shaw's Mills, where a family resided was about a quarter of a mile away.

The body was in a good state of preservation. His revolver was found fully loaded and his watch and other effects were not disturbed. The lunch that he carried had not been touched. One leg showed a bruise as if from a fall, which no doubt lamed him and prevented him from reaching Shaw's Mills.

He was a son of Postmaster Chase of Clearfield, and leaves a wife, besides his parents, brothers and sisters. He was 29 years of age and a veteran of the Spanish war.

Wm. H. Bailey

On Saturday at 5 o'clock p. m. Wm. H. Bailey died at his home near Pine Grove Mills, aged 72 years. He had been in failing health the past year. In the early winter he took grip but recovered so as to go about and superintend his farm work for the spring crops. Two weeks ago he took suddenly ill and heart trouble developed and he gradually grew weaker so that his attending physician entertained but little hope and the end came. Thus another old veteran has answered the last roll call. He was a member of Co. A, 146 P. V. M.

He was a decendant of one of the pioneer settlers of the western part of the county. He was a son of Wm. and Nancy Bailey and was born in Baileyville in the fall of 1857. He was married to Mary C. Glenn of the same place. His widow and five of their 10 children survive, also two sisters, Mary and Nannie. His early life was spent as a clerk. After his marriage he took up farming. In 1860 he purchased the farm just west of Pine Grove Mills where he was recognized as one of the foremost farmers and stock raisers, and was always interested in the advancement of public good. He was a life long member of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Graysville cemetery. Rev. W. K. Harnish officiating.

Sunbury Banker Disappears

Francis M. Bloom, head bookkeeper of the Sunbury Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, is missing, and is declared to have embezzled $10,000 of the bank's funds. No trace of him has been found since Thursday. Every effort is being made to locate him.

Late Wednesday afternoon a state bank examiner arrived at the bank and commenced his quarterly audit. He soon discovered some discrepancies.

Bloom endeavored to mislead him and cover up the seeming mistakes. He was nervous and upset at the time, but remained at the bank until the customary hour of departure after the bank had closed for the day.

Thursday morning Bloom left his home in East Sunbury, at the usual hour, and that was the last seen of him. The bank examiner continued his audit, and as he did so found numerous evidences of thefts. The bookkeeper had used various methods of covering up his work, which, from what can be learned, has not extended over a very long period.

The officers of the bank appeared before a justice Saturday and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Bloom, charging him with defalcation of $10,000.

A writ of attachment was made against Bloom's fine home and personal property. He is a brother of the president of the bank.

NEW BOROUGH WILL PROSPER

N. Y. C. to Extend and Repair the Yards at Avis.

TO BEGIN AT ONCE

About 500 Men Will be Employed and it Will Take Two Years to Complete the Work.

LARGE SUM TO BE SPENT ON THE JOB

The people of Avis, the railroad town, which is about to don its' borough clothes, are in high glee over the good news that the New York Central rail road company is to expend a vast sum of money in extending and improving the yards at that place, as related by the Jersey Shore Herald as follows:

Excitement has been running high in this city since Friday, when James E. Byron and Dominic Paranzino, two well known contractors, appeared here and began to look over the railroad yards at Avis. Rumors of all degrees were afloat, yet we heard none that fully compared in magnitude to the true state of affairs and measured up to the actual size of the plans and specifications of what was going to happen, until a representative of the Daily Herald interviewed the gentlemen.

James E. Byron, of Philadelphia, is the gentleman who built the double track of the Penn's railroad by this place several years ago, and his reappearance alone started many people of town who knew that his presence meant something big. The gentleman with him is Dominic Paranzino, of the firm of Romane, Danneca & Paranzino, with general offices at 807 South Eighth street Philadelphia, who will be in charge of the hiring of men to be employed on the job.

The job, for which they have contracted, is the grading of a large extension to the Avis railroad yards, for which the N. Y. C. railroad company has appropriated $3,000,000, and work on the same will begin next Monday, when carpenters will start to build shanties for the men. As soon as the shanties are built and ample provision is made to accommodate the men, the work will be pushed with all possible speed. When everything is in readiness and work will be in full blast about five hundred men will be employed on the job, and we are told by the contractors that it will take all of two years to complete the job.

Three steam shovels will be employed, and will be set up for the work in a few weeks. With the beginning of next week men can find employment by applying to Mr. Paranzino. The force will be small to start with, possibly not more than twenty-five men will be used, but will be added to right along.

Prosperity Drawing Near.

Prominent freight officials of the Pennsylvania believe that a wave of prosperity is due—one that will survive past experiences; and that the steel industries and the railroads of Pennsylvania will be taxed to their utmost in taking care of the business shortly to come.

As a basis for these opinions the recent bond issues of the railroad companies, which it is estimated, will reach at least $400,000,000 when all the roads have announced their issues, are looked to as the brightest signs reflected on the business horizon.

While a part of the funds are understood to be devoted to discharging old obligations, yet an enormous amount is to be used in improving the physical properties and as a result more new work in making extensions and increasing equipment and improving facilities will be undertaken shortly than at any previous period in the history of railroads.

Stork Plays a Joke

The Philipsburg Daily Journal the other day stated that the stork had visitited Charley Ebech's home and left with the family a nice baby boy. They had to take the report back the next day as it was incorrect. The stork evidently hearing about the affair, concluded to make an investigation and quickly came to the conclusion that Charley was worthy of a surprise and accordingly left him twins.

WEST SUSQUEHANNA CLASSIS.

Fifty-first Annual Session Held at Coburn Wednesday and Thursday

The West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed church met in its 51st. annual sessions in St. Andrew's Reformed church at Coburn. Wednesday evening, May 6th at 8 o'clock, the retiring president Rev. E. T. Rhodes of Lewistown, preached the opening sermon, using as his text St. John 3:17. After the sermon the president called classis to order, when the stated clerk called the roll. 21 ministers are enrolled. Each charge is represented by an Elder delegate. Rev. Samuel H. Stein, of Lock Haven was elected president for the ensuing year. Classis then adjourned to meet Thursday morning at 8.30 o'clock.

Thursday morning session was taken up with the reading of the parochial reports of the pastors. Revs. Daniel Gress of Centre Hall and Rev. Elias S. Noll of New Berlin were excused for absence on account of illness in their families.

The various standing committees were appointed and their reports will appear later. On account of the division of the White Deer charge classis voted $150 sustentation for this year, the charge to increase the salary of the pastor $50. Bellefonte was chosen as the place of meeting next year, May 1909. The evening session was in charge of the laymen, D. K. Miller of Lock Haven presided.

C. H. Stover of Aaronsburg spoke on "The Elder and Deacon in the Congregation," and Jared Harper of Bellefonte told "How to Manage the Finances of the Church." Action was taken looking to the organization of laymen's association in the classis.

FRIDAY'S SESSION.

West Susquehanna classis resumed its work Friday morning with the hearing of the report of the committee on overtures. Among the items was the reception of the Rev. E. H. Laubach from the East Ohio classis. The reconstruction of a number of charges occupied much of the morning session. Rev. Preston A. DeLong of Watsontown, Pa. represented the Sunday School Board and asked for the hearty support of classis. Rev. John C. Bowman, D. D. of the Theological Seminary, Lancaster, Pa., spoke of the great need of the church in securing young men for the Christian ministry. Also for the need of a larger endowment for the Seminary.

The evening session was given over to two interesting addresses. The first by Rev. Wilson F. More, Supt. of Bethany Orphan's Home; the second by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt who spoke on the Activity of the Reformed Church in Japan and China. Business sessions of the classis will continue throughout Saturday.

Lukenbach—Rowe

A very quiet but pretty wedding took place at the parsonage of the St. John's Catholic church Monday morning at 6 o'clock when the Rev. Father McArdle said the words that united for life, Mr. Charles A. Lukenbach and Miss Ellen Elizabeth Rowe. The beautiful ring ceremony of the church was used. Both bride and groom were unattended and the marriage was witnessed by the immediate relatives and a few friends of the contracting parties. The bride was attired in a light brown traveling suit and hat to match.

The happy young couple departed on the 6.30 train over the Lewisburg railroad and after spending a ten days or two weeks honeymoon in Philadelphia, New York and Atlantic City will return to Bellefonte and take up housekeeping in the Nicholi's property on Curtin street.

The groom is a son of A. V. Lukenbach and is employed as a clerk in the First National bank and is one of Bellefonte's industrious and promising young men. The bride is the oldest daughter of Recorder John C. Rowe and is numbered as one of our pretty and accomplished young ladies. They have best wishes of their numerous friends for a happy and prosperous married life.

Claim Heavy Damages.

Chief Examiner George M. Brown, of the United States Interstate Commerce Commission accompanied by a staff of assistants has been at Clearfield the past couple days taking testimony in relation to charges preferred against the Pennsylvania Railroad company alleging discrimination in the supplying of coal cars and discrimination given to favorite shippers along their line.

The prosecutors are the Hillsdale Coal and Coke Co., Clark Bros., The Beulah Coal Co., James H. Minds and J. J. Mountz. The damages claimed in these cases aggregate over $350,000.

GAS EXPLOSION KILLS SEVEN

Party Trying to save Property Meet Death in Colliery Fire

WERE TWO EXPLOSIONS

Dead and Ten Injured were Brought to Surface after Hours of Toil Amid Dangers.

INJURED LIVED NEAR THE COLLIERY.

Wilkes-Barre, May 12.—Seven men were instantly killed and ten others seriously burned by an explosion of gas in the slope of the Mount Lookout colliery, at Wyoming, near here, at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

The historic town was thrown into a state of excitement when word came from the colliery which is operated by the Temple Coal and Iron company that an explosion of gas had occurred at 5 o'clock and that many miners and laborers had been killed.

Thousands of people flocked to the mine and the state constabulary who have their barracks near there, had all they could do to keep the crowd away from the mouth of the shaft. From what could be learned at the mine during the excitement, a miner named John Kosmith left a small "gas feeder" burn in the extreme end of a gangway, 1,800 feet away from the shaft and 600 feet under the ground all of last night, which, during the night or the early morning set fire to the timbers and the coal.

FIRST EXPLOSION LIGHT.

This morning when the fire boss started into the mine to make his rounds he discovered a fire. He at once reported it and with three men tried to subdue the flames, but they met with gas while trying to do so. Shortly after a slight explosion took place, burning the four men but not seriously injuring them.

Then they came out of the mine and the inside foreman summoned a gang of menand went into the mine to put out the fire. They worked all day around the flames in order to shut them off and stop them from spreading.

They admitted air from another gangway to allow the gas to escape and while doing so a second explosion took place. This was about five o'clock this evening, and seven men, all miners and laborers, were instantly killed and ten others burned upon the hands and face.

All those injured live in the neighborhood of the colliery. All were burned upon the face and hands.

Five others were burned in the same way but their names could not be obtained, however, being sent home during the excitement in ambulances.

Better Pay for R. F. D. Men.

Congressman John M. Reynold, of the 19th Pennsylvania district has introduced in the House, a bill increasing the salaries of rural mail carriers to $1,200 per year as the maximum.

"The rural carriers are not given enough money for the work they perform," said Mr. Reynold, in discussing the merits of the bill. "They are compelled to work all seasons of the year, in summer, in winter, in rain, snow and under all conditions. The government takes no excuse from them. In addition to this they are compelled to furnish their own horse and wagon and keep both in proper repair. The amount allowed them by the government, therefore, hardly enables them to make both ends meet. I think $1,200 a year is little enough when one takes into consideration the duties performed by these servants of Uncle Sam. I am doing everything in my power to have my bill favorably acted upon by this Congress."

McCullough—Bryan

Mr. George McCullough and Miss Meda Bryan, both of Milesburg were quietly married on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. M. C. Piper. Only the members of the families of the contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony. They left on the evening train for a wedding trip to Gettysburg and upon their return to Milesburg will take up housekeeping in the dwelling at the corner of Centre and Hazel streets where the house already furnished awaits them.

UMBRELLA MENDER ASPHYXIATED.

Goes to Sleep at Curtin's Works Never to Wake up.

On Friday evening about eight o'clock an unknown umbrella mender appeared at the furnace at Curtin, ostensibly for the purpose of seeking a place for his night's repose. After looking about the furnace as to the best place to sleep he went to the bridge house and there entered a small booth, about 6x6 feet near the trunnel head of the furnace and finding this quite warm he decided to spend the night in this small building and enjoy the comfort and warmth of the heat from the furnace. After entering the booth he bolted the door with his bundle of umbrella handles, etc. in order that he might spend the night unmolested.

Finding the door closed and bolted the next morning and no signs of the umbrella man, the workmen forced an entrance and found the small room filled with gas from the furnace. Upon examination they found that the umbrella mender had been inhaling the deadly fumes and was sleeping the sleep that knows no awakening.

Manager Harry Curtin notified Coroner Fisher of the finding of the dead body of the umbrella mender and that officer went to Curtin Saturday forenoon. A jury was empanelled and an examination made of the corpse. An inquest was held in the office of the Eagle Iron company, the verdict being that the man came to his death by asphyxiation.

There was nothing about his person that would positively identify him as to his name or where his home might be. He, however, carried a deposit slip of the Carrollstown, Pa., National bank for $500.00 in the name of Joseph Taylor. Whether or not this is the man's name and Carrolstown his home has not been learned. He also had $47.95 in bills and change in his pockets. He was a man about 60 years of age.

After the inquest the body was taken in charge by the overseers of the poor of Borgs township and taken to the Wetzler undertaking rooms at Milesburg where it was properly embalmed and will be held to await the finding of relatives or friends.

A Disastrous Fire.

Monday morning while John Brock who lives alone on his farm in Gallagher townsbip, Clinton county, was eating his breakfast he heard a crackling sound over his head and smelled smoke. Running outside he discovered that his house was on fire. He got out a few clothes and called for the assistance of his neighbors. By the time help was received the house was doomed and the flames quickly spread to an adjoining house and then to the barn and the other buildings. A little of his furniture was saved and all the farming implements in the barn were gotten out. Mr. Brock had $45 in bills and change upstairs in the house and this was burned. There was no stock in the barn. The loss on the buildings is estimated at about $3,000 with $1,300 insurance several companies.

Horse Gone Nine Months.

On August 6 of last year George Harvey, a liveryman of Mill Hall, hired a horse and buggy to a young man and never saw any of them since that time. Sunday Mr. Harvey visited a gypsy camp near Blesh's brick yard and was surprised to see the missing animal among the 20 or more horses owned by the gypsies.

He at once notified the chief of the tribe and the latter stated that he had purchased the horse from a man in Jersey Shore and that the former owner had secured it in Williamsport. The gypsy gave the name of the man from whom he purchased it and Mr. Harvey is making an investigation. He does not place any blame on the gypsies for having it in their possession as they got it in a legitimate manner and will return the horse to Mr. Harvey.

Fire at Pleasant Gap.

The residence of James Brooks at Pleasant Gap was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning about 6 o'clock. The flames originated at a place where the stove pipe passed through the roof. Only a few articles of furniture and the like down stairs were gotten out, everything upstairs being burned with the building which was totally destroyed.

About one year ago Mr. Brooks' sons purchased the home and gave it to their father who is a cripple and a poor man. He did not carry any insurance on the property and the loss will be keenly felt by the unfortunate man.

CASHIER IS FOUND SHORT

Pittsburg Bank Loses Through Hands of Trusted Officer

IS STATE DEPOSITORY

Accused Cashier Claims He Loaned Large Sums to Speculators and They Failed to Make Good.

THE PRISONER IS RELEASED ON BAIL

Pittsburg, May 7.—William Montgomery, known to almost everyone in Pittsburg as "Billy," cashier of the Allegheny National Bank, the most important financial institution from a political standpoint of any in the city, was arrested this afternoon charged with embezzling. So far as is known his alleged shortage will reach $469,000 at least, and probably close to $1,000,000.

Within two hours after his arrest Montgomery was released on $50,000 bail which is considered small in view of the amount of his alleged defalcation. Geo. E. Tener, a millionaire real estate and coal man, brother of John K. Tener, Republican candidate for Congress from the Twenty-fourth district and relative of George T. Oliver, became his bondsman. Mr. Tener agreed to go on Montgomery's bond provided that not more than $200,000 was demanded. All of these arrangements had practically been completed before Montgomery's arrest.

Deputy United States Marshal McBernie had visited the bank several times looking for Montgomery, but had been unable to find him. Then he visited several cafes which were frequented by the cashier and finally found him a few minutes before 5 o'clock coming from one of his clubs. He expressed no surprise at his arrest and willingly accompanied the marshal.

At the office of Commissioner W. T. Lindsay, President Stewart and other officials of the bank met Montgomery. For two hours they talked over the situation, Montgomery steadfastly adhering to the statement that all of his alleged ill-gotten gains had disappeared, as had also his own private fortune. It is hinted that when he tells the names of the persons to whom he loaned the money a sensation eclipsing that occasioned by the Enterprise Bank failure will develop.

Good Time to Build.

Persons who are contemplating building new houses and have the means to do so, should not put off their projects because times are dull now. The present depression is not going to last long and there are two very good reasons why it is wise to build now. In the first place materials are cheaper than they have been for a number of years or are likely to be when times get better. In the second place labor is plentiful and cheaper and the man who gives employment to the enforced idle men is doing a public spirited act, which will be fully appreciated. A prominent builder is authority for the statement that one can build now for ten per cent less than a year ago, and if this is true, our advice to prospective builders is, build.

PINE TREE WORTH A FARM

Cut in Cameron County by the Central Penna Lnmber Co.

GIANT OF THE FOREST

This Monster Scaled 10,800 Feet, Board Measure and was Worth a Thousand Dollars.

SOME INTERESTING INFORMATION

A giant tree of the Pennsylvania forests was harvested recently in Cameron county—Warrant No. 4970—by the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company that was certainly something remarkable. This great tree was white pine and will make as fine lumber as was ever cut in the Keystone state. It produced the following number and length of logs: 12 sixteen foot logs, 2 fourteen foot logs, 8 twelve foot logs, 3 ten foot logs, and 6 eight foot logs, and the whole bunch scaled the magnificent total of 10,800 feet board measure. The butt log measured sixty inches, or five feet in diameter at the small end, and plank cut from logs like that are worth in clear white pine immense sums of money. Such pine as this is worth at least $75 a thousand feet, and this great tree will likely bring the company in round numbers about a thousand dollars. Just think of that for one giant of the forest.

By adding the length of those logs together it would seem as though the tree was nearly 400 feet high, but such is not the case. The Ridgway Daily Record obtained information about the big tree from C. D. Osterhout, of Ridgeway, who is superintendent for the Central Pennsylvania Lumber company. The explanation is that the tree was not 394 feet high as it would seem from the figures but it had two forks and three branches of immense size, hence the large number of logs. The tree was cut down during the deepest snow of the past winter and hence it was not much broken because the snow broke the fall so a great extent. There were some cracks and breaks of course, and these necessitated the cutting of the short logs, but the tree certainly was a marvel, and worth an immense amount of money—as much as many a farm is worth.

The Salary Question.

The defeat of the several motions to raise the salary of the county superintendent on Tuesday has resulted in much comment which led us to observe closely the results in some of the counties adjoining Centre. The majority of the directors in the county are farmers and they are paying a large portion of the taxes and cannot be blamed for taking such a firm stand as they did against the salary increase.

Without taking into consideration the number of schools in the county and the number of miles necessary to be traveled to visit these schools Centre county's superintendent is receiving a smaller pay than possibly any in the state. We note a few counties for comparison.

Superintendent Ira N. McCloskey of Clinton county, re-elected on Tuesday, receives $1600 per year, or $80 less than Superintendent Etters. Mr. Etters had 229 schools to visit last year and 1220 miles to travel, while Prof. McCloskey had 156 schools to visit and 800 miles to travel.

Superintendent Bruce Milnor of Lycoming county was re-elected and his salary increased from $2000 to $2500. Prof. Charles Lose was re-elected superintendent of the Williamsport schools at a salary of $2500, an increase of $300 over last year.

Northumberland county increased the salary of her superintendent from $1550 to $1800.

The salary of W. E. Tobias of Clearfield County was increased from $2000 to $2400, while Blair added $200 to the former $1800 salary making it $2000. In Altoona a motion was made to reduce the salary of the city superintendent from $2400 to $2000 but the motion was defeated and the salary maintained at $2400.

Some one with expert mathematical accuracy has figured out that it would cost the taxpayers one-tenth of a mill to increase the county superintendent's salary to $2000 a year, or in other words a man whose assessed valuation was $1000 would pay 10 cents of the increase.

"Experience a Dear School."

The management of the Academy minstrels has learned through the dear school of experience that when you try to satisfy everybody and listen to the clamors of those who do not known what they want, you are not going to accomplish much. This lesson was very forcibly impressed upon them Tuesday night when they gave the performance of the minstrels for the third time. Even before the first night there was a general complaint that the price was too high for a home talent production. But the nigh class entertainment given justified the prices charged and the receipts for that evening were $240, the proceeds of which would have been about $200. They were very much elated over this and had good hopes for Saturday night. That night, however was very unfavorable and the receipts were only $43. Then arose the clamor for the reproduction of the minstrels at popular prices, 35 and 25 cents. The demand was pressed so strongly that it was finally agreed that a special performance would be given on Tuesday evening. This was "the straw that broke the camel's back," the receipts being only $23.65. This did not near make up expenses and to deduct the deficits for the two nights from the proceeds of the first night is going to leave a very small margin.

It is to be regretted that the efforts of the Academy boys were not better appreciated and after working as hard as they did to make the minstrels a success not to realize any sum worth mentioning. The boys have shown the people what they can do and at their next appearance those who supported them on this occasion will welcome them with enthusiasm. However you can bet your bottom dollar that there will be no attention paid to the demand for a show at "popular prices."

Modern Woodmen Convention.

The triennial state convention of the Modern Woodmen of America, which convened in Maccabee Temple Erie, Pa., on May 6, is now a matter of history. It was one of the most successful in the history of the organization, and the visitors were more than pleased with the entertainment furnished by members of the three local camps. It was decided to hold the next convention in Lancaster, in 1911.

The following state officers were elected for the coming three years:

Consul—Harry A. Herbst, Bethlehem.

Clerk—E. A. Miller, Harrisburg.

Advisors—J. P. S. Strickler, Mifflinburg.

Banker—J. S. Hene, Reading.

Escort—Harry Lancks, Hummelstown.

The following were elected delegates to represent the Pennsylvania organization at the national convention to be held in Peoria, Ill., in June: Dr. S. V. Hoopman, Chester; Edward I. High, Reading; William P. Clark, Harrisburg; Harry Landeau, Sunbury; Harry H. Walborn, Millersburg; W. F. Loomis, Scranton; Wesley McFarlan, Allentown; J. K. Johnston, Bellefonte; W. A. McClure, Johnsonburg; H. F. Weiss, Punxsutawney; Fred Gibson, Homestead; J. S. Braddock, of Mt. Pleasant, and J. P. Tate of Erie.

Cigarettes and Fish.

If there is one law more than another that is absolutely ignored in Pennsylvania it is that relating to cigarettes. The selling of this form of weed to boys is absolutly prohibited yet they may be seen smoking them on almost every corner. Not a day passes but what you see someone stopped by a boy with a cigarette in his mouth and ask for a match. The cigarette law is not enforced because it seems to be no persons business to see that it is put into effect. Parents who do not want to see boys smoking the bits of paper and tobacco do not carry their protests to the length of prosecuting the dealers. The cigarette habit will never be wholly checked in this country until it is made the specific duty of some set of officials to see it that the law relating to the sale to minors is enforced to the letter.

A fisherman may go out in the mountains 25 miles from civilization and if he catches a trout one-eighth of an inch under the limit allowed by law he is apprehended by the game warden and soaked for a good fine. He had done no one any harm and only kept a little fish that would have probably died from its injuries. But let a dozen boys go about the streets puffing at their stinking little cigarettes and no one is concerned as to where or how they got them. The laxity of the enforcement of the cigarette law has made the dealers very bold in selling cigarettes to boys. Why not have special officers to apprehend violators of the cigarette law as well as the fish or game laws? Why not have some one to run down the violators of the liquor laws as well as some one to watch who takes a trout under six inches in length? Why not have a special officer to take a boy with a cigarette to task as well as send a man into the remotest wilderness of the state to find the man who catches a fish under prescribed length provided by a law enacted through the whims of the law-makers?

Is a fish more than a boy?

Epworth League Officers.

PENNSYLVANIA'S JUST CLAIMS

Keystone State is Entitled to Recognition of Her Son.

PENNA. A LOYAL STATE

Gave Roosevelt Largest Plurality Ever Given to Any Candidate at Any Time

HER CLAIM SHOULD BE RECOGNIZED

Washington, May 9.—The declaration of the Republican platform that Pennsylvania, by reason of her loyalty and magnificent record, is entitled to the presidential nomination, has attracted general attention. The supporters of Senator P. C. Knox are urging this and the qualities of their candidates as sufficient reasons why the claims of the Keystone State should be recognized by the Chicago convention. Congressman James F. Burke, of Pittsburgh, manager of the Knox candidacy, said:

"Pennsylvania's positive declaration in her platform that she is entitled to the Republican presidential nomination this year because of her overwhelming loyalty to the party's principles, in addition to Senator Knox's eminent fitness, has set Republicans everywhere to thinking. A number of senators and representatives have said to me 'You Pennsylvanians are right. You have saved the Republican ship so often that the other states should be glad to stand by you now that you have produced a man of full presidential stature like Knox.'

"We have made up our minds to win and we are certain that what Pennsylvania has done for the party and what Knox has done for the Roosevelt administration and the country will bring us victory. The delegates to Chicago are going to be Republicans and they are not going to forget that they need all the Republican votes of all the Republican states to win in the coming election."

Pennsylvania's loyalty to the party is shown by her record in the last presidential election. The state then cast 840,949 Republican votes and gave Roosevelt a plurality of 505,519. This is the largest plurality ever given any candidate by any state at any time. It is high water mark, a record not likely to be excelled.

Compared with this tremendous plurality, the eleven states composing what is known as the solid south polled in 1904 a total of 399,528 Republican votes. These eleven states have a total of 240 delegates in the national convention, and Pennsylvania has but 68, though the Keystone State gave Roosevelt a plurality over Parker of 105,991 votes more than the entire number of Republican votes cast in all of these eleven southern states.

Roosevelt's plurality over Parker was 2,545,515 of which 20 per cent came from Pennsylvania. Roosevelt's total popular vote was 7,623,486, of which he got 11 per cent in Pennsylvania. In the whole country there were polled 13,520,521 votes and almost 10 per cent of them were cast in Pennsylvania.

Other states rolled up big pluralities in 1904, notably New York, Roosevelt's home state, and Ohio, the home state of McKinley where the candidate, because of his relations to the martyred president who preceded him, was very strong. And yet Pennsylvania's plurality was 75,000 greater than the combined pluralities of New York and Ohio. It is in the light of these facts that the argument of Pennsylvania that she is entitled to name the next President appears sound and reasonable.

Athletic Notes.

The State vs. Dickinson baseball game scheduled for Friday afternoon was called off on account of the wet condition of the grounds. The Beaver field does not have any drains and is very slow in drying while the new field is well drained it is not completed. The track meet with Bucknell scheduled for today was postponed on account of the illness of many of State's track men.

The Howard team succeeded in getting their grounds drained and at last reports they were counting on the game scheduled with Snow Shoe.

The other Clinton-Centre league games booked for today were Mill Hall at Beech Creek, and Orvis at Woolrich.

The Juniata College game scheduled with the Academy at home on Friday was cancelled by the Juniata College team. Dickinson Seminary was to have played here today with the Academy but that game was called off.

The True Mechanic.

After a man has worked in shops for ten or fifteen years there is a great desire for a change. Some want to go out on a farm, others think that the invention of something that can be patented will solve the problem, while others want to own and run a shop themselves. The latter is really the true mechanic, but not necessarily the man who will get out the most or even the best work while working for a boss, says Charles Henry in the Workers' Magazine. On the contrary, he will often be considered the lazy man by the foreman when the work is of an ever recurring character. Let, however, some difficulty arise in connection with a job or have some hard proposition to meet and he will always have a suggestion to offer that will help to solve the problem, while the ordinary man and the hustler will stand around helpless and often disinterested. He will have the elementary laws of mechanics and physics at his finger tips, will know enough of electricity to allow him to discourse upon the subject in an intelligent manner, and he will be well posted upon the mechanical progress of the day.

A Dressmaker of Yarmouth.

In the churchyard of Caister, close to Yarmouth, is the grave of the "quiet, little, gentle voiced dressmaker," of whom at her death in October, 1843, the then bishop of Norwich said, "I would canonize Sarah Martin if I could." Yarmouth reveres her to this day. A stained glass window has been placed to her memory in the parish church, where her prayer book is still preserved, while her journal is one of the treasures of the public library in the tollhouse. Underneath this building was the miserable dungeon which served as the borough prison, and it was to the amelioration of the lot of the wretched prisoners that Sarah Martin devoted her life. Earning a bare subsistence of fifteen pence a day by toiling from early morning till far on into the night, she yet managed to give up one day in the week to her labor of love. She died in poverty, but the result of her life's work was the reform of the prison system of Yarmouth.—London Chronicle.

Burned It Into Memory.

One of the most characteristically eccentric things ever done by Gelett Burgess (and one of the few true stories of him) was to spend three or four days in constructing of cardboard, mica and green velvet a little model of an old New England house, complete as to windows, curtains, lawn, garden, trees and even including a hammock with a tiny hat and summer novel and washing stretched out on a clothesline on the back stoop. This was for a dinner given to several literary friends in New York, and when the coffee was served he deliberately set fire to the whole farm. His explanation was that had it been spared his guests might have forgotten the affair, but they would always remember the destruction of the house. No one who ever saw the little house go up in smoke on its little hill of damp moss will ever forget it.

The Misplaced Comma.

"Some lawsuits of the highest importance have hinged upon the right placing of a comma," said a judge.

"When I first started to practice law a Missouri editor came to me in a peck of trouble to defend him against a threatened libel suit growing out of faulty punctuation. He had not meant to give some innocent young women the slightest offense when he wrote a story about 'two young men who went with their girls to attend a lecture and after they left, the girls got drunk.' Putting that miserable little comma out of its right place did the work, as it made the girls the ones who became inebriated instead of their escorts. I managed by proper diplomacy and the publication of a neat apology to stave off the damage suits, and afterward my editorial friend became an expert on punctuation."—Baltimore American.

Taunting.

Old Noah hunted up a barrel stave and started off for the stern of the ark.

"Where are you going?" asked Mrs. Noah.

"I am going to whale that boy Ham," replied Noah, with a frown.

"But, my dear, the lad is only playing on his banjo."

"Yes, but it is the tune he is playing."

"And what is the tune?"

"'Wait Till the Sun Shines, Lizzie.'"—Chicago News.

Angry Adjectives.

It was not a young woman novelist, but Charles Sumner, of whom the late E. L. Godkin, the New York editor, said:

He works his adjectives so hard that if they ever catch him alone they will murder him.

Very Steady.

Farmer Haye—That Jones boy that used to work for you wants me to give him a job. Is he steady? Farmer Seede—Well, if he was any steadier he'd be motionless.—London Express.

Poor Jack.

Clara—Jack intends to have all his own way when we are married. Clara's Mamma—Then why do you want to marry him? Clara—To relieve his mind of a false impression.

American Woman in German Eyes.

American girls, whether born or merely brought up in America, evidence the same independence of judgment and the same complete self reliance. It is hard to say whether this is the result of the education in the public schools and colleges or in their freedom from that condition of legal and social subserviency to which the gentler sex is doomed in older countries.—Max von Brandt in Berlin Deutsche Revue.

Quite a "Character."

Here is a "character" given to a servant on leaving her last situation: "The bearer has been in my house a year, less eleven months. During this time she has shown herself diligent at the house door, frugal in work, mindful of herself, prompt in excuses and honest when everything was out of the way."—London Tit-Bits.

Awed Into Humility.

Man for man, if not woman for woman, the humility and terror of Americans in the presence of English people of their own class or above it is, with whatever care disguised, a pathetic thing.—London Outlook.

A Little Too Far.

"There is such a thing as overdoing your part," declared a man of the law who now has the knowledge gained by much experience.

"Shortly after I began practice in the west I was called upon to defend a man who had drawn a revolver on another and threatened to kill him. The accused did not have a character above reproach, but the prosecuting witness was also shady in reputation and I made the most of this fact. I pictured him as a desperado of the most dangerous type, a man that was a constant menace to the community and one who would recognize no other law than that of force. Such men as he, I insisted, made necessary the organization of vigilance committees and injured the fair name of the west among the older communities of the country.

"The jury returned a verdict of guilty and my man was sentenced to a year's imprisonment. As soon as court adjourned the foreman of the jury came to me and said: 'Young feller, you spread it on too thick. After that there rip snortin' speech of yourn we couldn't do nothin' else 'an what we done.'

"'I don't understand you, sir.'

"'You don't? Why, we found the durned gerloot guilty 'cause he didn't shoot.'"—Detroit Free Press.

To Clean Suede Gloves.

Put the gloves on the hands and then rub them with fuller's earth on a small brush. An old nail or tooth brush will do excellently. Some people use fuller's earth and powdered alum in equal quantities instead of the earth alone.

Just praise is only a debt, but flattery is a present.—Syrian Proverb.

Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

To aid in healing old sores, or ulcers, apply Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve to them while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to purify and enrich the blood.

Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve is cleansing and pain relieving. It destroys the bad odors arising from suppurating, or running, sores and puts them in the best possible condition for healing.

The "All-Healing Salve" is a superior dressing for all open, running, or suppurating, Sores or Ulcers. For healing open wounds, cuts and scratches it is unsurpassed.

If your medicine dealer does not have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock mail 50 cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive it by return post.

In treating all open sores, or ulcers, boils, carbuncles and other swellings, it is important that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery be taken persistently to purify the blood and thereby remove the cause of the trouble. It is in the blood that the great battle of health has to be fought. The ulcer and the sore are simply the scarlet flowers of disease, with roots running down into the blood. These roots must be eradicated or the disease will break out afresh. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood of all foul and poisonous accumulations, pushes out the dead and waste matter, and thus purifies the entire life current. Disease in the flesh must die out when it is no longer fed by foul blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" effectively cures disease in the flesh by curing its cause in the blood.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of unsolicited testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhal pelvic drains, painful periods, irregularities, prolapsus and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines and physicians had failed.

Nursing mothers and over-burdened women in all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by overwork, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating, restorative strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable pelvic catarrhal drain, prolapsus, anteversion or retroversion or other displacements of womanly organs, from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and a permanent cure by using faithfully, and fairly persistently, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native, medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with the aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs. A full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle-wrapper.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. Easy to take as candy.

Methodist General Conference.

The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, the governing body of that denomination, assembled in the Lyric theatre in Baltimore on Wednesday. The sessions of this conference will last for a month and during that time there will be in attendance 787 voting delegates, of whom 394 are ministerial and 393 lay, the latter including a few women. A number of the delegates come from foreign counties. Six or eight new bishops will be elected at this conference. Among the important questions which will occupy the attention of this great deliberative body are the following:

Has the time come when this denomination should unite with others, Methodist in type and polity, in retaining Methodist doctrines and faith?

Should presiding elders, now appointed by the bishops, be elected by the respective annual conferences?

How may more adequate support be provided for retired preachers, worn out through long and faithful service?

Should the time that any minister may serve a charge be limited to a specified term, as was formerly done?

Should the Church's publishing enterprises, now divided between the Church's Methodist Book Concern in New York and the Western Methodist Book Concern in Cincinnati, be merged?

Should the Book of Discipline of the denomination continue to specify certain forms of amusement as prohibited, or should the vigorous attitude of the denomination with respect to amusements in regards as questionable be phrased in the terms of general principles, as was the case until the General Conference of 1872?

Good Work by Constabulary.

Captain John C. Groome, in his third annual report as commander in chief of the state constabulary, presents some impressive facts. Arrests made during the year numbered 4388; and 454 prisoners only, or about ten per cent were discharged. The fees and costs collected, amounted to $21,015 85 and $44,353.70 from unexpected appropriations and other sources was paid into the state treasury.

The constabulary patroled 332,094 miles, visiting 886 towns or boroughs in 51 counties. The morals and discipline of the force, Captain Groome says are excellent. "Its members have shown good judgement, coolness and absolute fearlessness." He adds:

"A recapitulation of the most important duties performed will show that during the year the members not only maintained law and order through the various counties of the commonwealth in which they operated, but assisted the game and fish wardens in the suppression of illegal hunting and fishing (one illegal fisherman, having been found guilty, took his case to the court of appeals, and then to the superior court, and in both courts the decision of the alderman was confirmed, and in default of $1300 fine he was committed to the Luzerne county jail to serve 1300 days) also the department of forestry in fighting forest fires and the department of health, in maintaining quarantine during the epidemic of contagious diseases and in enforcing the sanitary laws of the commonwealth."

Tired nerves, with that "no ambition" feeling that is commonly felt in spring or early summer, can be easily and quickly altered by taking what is known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. One will absolutely note a changed feeling within 48 hours after beginning to take the Restorative. The bowels get sluggish in the winter-time, the circulation often slows up the Kidneys are inactive, and even the Heart in many cases grows decidedly weaker. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is recognized everywhere as a genuine tonic to these vital organs. It builds up and strengthens the worn out weakened nerves; it sharpens the failing appetite, and universally aids digestion. It always quickly brings renewed strength, life, vigor, and ambition. Try it and be convinced. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

EDITORIAL.

THE fighting Afgans have brought a very uncomfortable and critical condition of affairs for the British on the Indian border.

AN exchange says that every perion who wishes to stay in this world should be specially careful during the unsettled weather.

IT is claimed for the defaulting New Jersey bank cashier that he lost the morey helping his friends. Almost any one can afford to be generous with other people's money. It is giving up your own that counts.

ORGANIZATIONS for the prevention of foress fires are being effected in many states. The movement is a commendable one and should receive the support of the several commonwealths. It is claimed that forest fires have destroyed more timber than the lumberman have cut.

IT is now proposed to erect a monument on the sight of the first oil well, which was on Oil creek in Venango county. The discovery of oil in Pennsylvania was a noteworthy affair in the history of the state, and the industry is now marked by numerous monuments of wealth. John D. should be a liberal contributor.

Primary Law Defects.

It is not surprising to learn from Harrisburg that serious defects have been disclosed in the uniform primaries law. The point of greater interest is that sterling virtues have been disposed by its operation. There has been widespread and general satisfaction with the main principles of the new system. Technical defects can be cured. It is expected that Governor Stuart may point out changes that should be made to simplify the primaries and avoid certain objectional features. The Governor is a safe guide. Care will need to be taken in the Legislature, however, that the virtues of the act shall not be impaired under cover of the necessary amendments. The general election law suffered damage on several occasions when efforts were made to improve it.

Postal Savings Bank Probable

Since Congress and the President seem to be getting together on the more important measures before the national lawmaking body, it is quite probable that the savings bank will pass the Senate and House. This is one of the measures which has been strongly advocated by President Roosevelt, and throughout the country there seems to be a growing demand for the accommondation which will come through the postal savings institution.

There is less objection to the proposition now than when it was first discussed, owing to the fact that bankers are beginning to realize that the savings which are now concealed in stockings and out-of-way places would increase the medium of circulation through the postal savings scheme. It is estimated that millions of dollars are kept out of active circulation through the petty hording of foreigners and others who have no faith in the regular banking institutions.

SOME of the political leaders suggest making a compromise with Senator Knox by giving him the nomination for Vice President. But the vice presidency generally means being shelved and Knox is too good a man for that.

WHEN stockholders of a big railroad corporation authorize a new issue of one hundred million dollars in bonds there ought not to be much doubt about a return of business confidence in this country. Of course, there will be some marking of time until the political situation clears somewhat, but the restoration of normal conditions is bound to start the wheels going everywhere, and very soon.

THE attitude of the great Methodist Church upon the subject of worldly amusements has been clearly stated in an address of the bishops at the Quadrennial Conference in Baltimore. Instead of specifying the particular amusements which are contrary to the discipline of the church, the great denomination proposes to appeal to the conscience of the people rather by spiritual than legislative methods.

IT is a matter of gratification of his admiring countrymen that Admiral "Bob" Evans was permitted to take part in the great naval pageant at San Francisco Thursday. This virtually marks his retirement from active service, and it would have been a great disappointment to the veteran sea fighter had he not been able to participate in the splendid reception of the great American fleet at the Golden Gate.

THE pollution of streams has been growing so rapidly of late years that it has been found necessary to act in the interests of public health. The question of sewage disposal is now confronting many cities. The laws in force in the several states governing the discharge of sewage into streams, shows that Pennsylvania was one of eight states which has adopted stringent methods to enforce the right of their citizens to unpolluted natural waters.

EMERY'S EXPLANATION.

In a statement issued Monday morning Lewis Emery, of Bradford, labors to justify himself for refusing to vote for Senator Knox at the Republican National convention in Chicago in June. His explanation, however, will not excuse him in the minds of a vast number of Republicans. He makes a strong profession of loyalty to President Roosevelt and asserts that he will support Taft for the reason that he believes the secretary represents Roosevelt's policies better than any other candidate. But does this ring true, coming from the defeated candidate of the Democratic party for governor of Pennsylvania, who made his campaign on a platform which declared that "the only prominence the administration of Theodore Roosevelt has been attained by the feeble and pretended application of the principles of Wm. J. Bryan, who is now regarded as the certain successor of Roosevelt."

Something more of Emery's political quality appears in a statement toward the end of his justification. He says: "I am further confirmed in this view by my firm conviction, that Secretary Taft will, inany event be nominated by a large majority on the first ballot."

As an honorable man Mr. Emery should have announced himself for Taft when he announced his candidacy for delegate to the Republican nationsl convention. That would have been manly and in perfect harmony with that "square deal" principle for which he proclaims his love and which he says has caused him at this late day to attach himself to the candidacy of the favorite son of another state. If he had made it known when a square man should have done so that he was against Knox and for Taft he would have made an issue in his congressional district which would have shown beyond a doubt whom the voters favored. Why didn't he do so, unless it was that he felt certain that he could not be elected on that issue?

THAT murder farm out in Indiana puts the Hoosier state several leaps ahead in the race for the spectacular in crime, though Indiana is disposed to blame it all on her proximity to Chicago.

THAW has promised his mother to work if he gets his release. It would be interesting to know whom he is going to work this time. The Thaw family and its finances seem pretty well exhaused.

THE president can speak several languages and it is said he is hunting for a new language in which to express his opinion of Speaker Cannon and the other congressmen who refuse to pass needed legislation.

An interesting game of baseball took place at Axe Mann when Axe Mann crossed bats with Pleasant Gap, the game lasted about 2 hours when Axe Mann took the laurels by the score 13 to 10. The features of the game were the great pitching of Walters who allowed the Gap boys three hits, the batting of Keller and the triple play and batting of Williams. The line up:

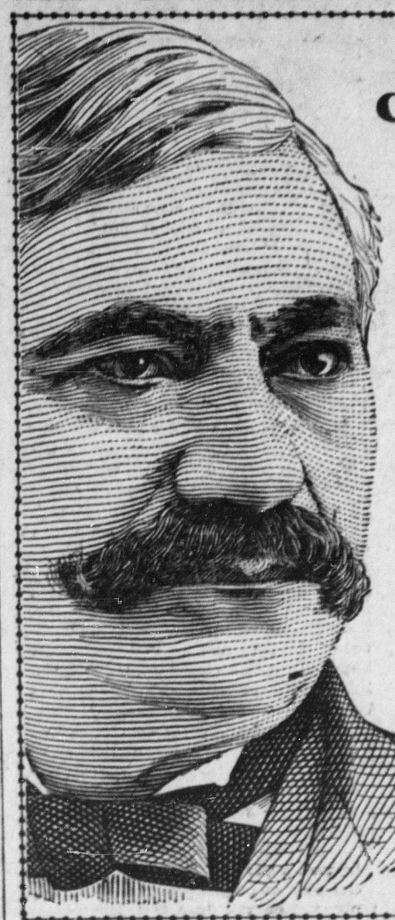
A Blow to Speak-easies.

The government has decided to aid the city of Philadelphia in the warfare against clubs which flourish in the speak-easy business. Its blow to the clubs is in the shape of a $25 tax. David McCoach, collector of internal revenue, received from Washington an order to collect an additional tax of $25 from every unincorporated club every time it increases its membership.

Clubs which are incorporated under the state laws will not have to pay the additional $25 tax when they receive a new member. Mr. McCoach said the new order originated from a host of complaints about speak easies which flourish under the names of "club." Heretofore a club could sell a ticket to a man for a dollar, thereby permitting the buying of liquor on Sunday by any persons who could furnish the cash A speak-easy club, it is believed, will hardly have the temerity to ask a person for $25 and reciprocate by permitting the new member to buy several drinks.

Mr. McCoach believes though the new ruling may be severe on many legitimate clubs the order will be welcomed nevertheless. He believes that such clubs will incorporate if speak-easies can be wiped out of existence, inasmuch as the speak-easy causes suspicion against clubs which sell only to members.

HAD CATARRH THIRTY YEARS.



Congressman Meekison Gives Praise To Pe-ru-na For His Relief From Catarrh.

CONGRESSMAN MEEKISON COMMENDS PE-RU-NA.

"I have used several bottles of Peruna and I feel greatly benefited thereby from my catarrh of the head. I feel encouraged to believe that if I use it a short time longer I will be fully able to eradicate the disease of thirty years' standing."—David Meekison.

OTHER REMARKABLE CURES.

Mr. Jacob L. Davis, Galena, Stone county, Mo., writes: "I have been in bad health for thirty-seven years, and after taking twelve bottles of your Peruna I am cured." Mr. A. E. Kidd, well-known architect, 5477 Jefferson Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have had catarrh over half of my life. I tried nearly every catarrh remedy advertised, beside a great many physicians' treatments, all of which failed. I had heard and read of Peruna and decided to try it, I have taken seven bottles of it and weigh 172 pounds."

A SINCERE RECOMMENDATION.

Mr. D. C. Prosser, R. F. D. No. 2, Shelby, Oceana Co., Mich., writes: "Two years ago I was badly afflicted with catarrh of the stomach. I had had a run of typhoid fever, was very depleted. I could find nothing I could eat without causing distress and sour stomach. Finally I came to the conclusion that I had catarrh of the stomach and seeing Peruna advertised, began to take it. It helped me soon, and after taking three or four bottles I was entirely cured of stomach trouble, and can now eat anything."

Chapman - Alexander.

Two Noted Evangelists and Their Remarkable Campaign. "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Mr. Alexander's Smile.

WHEN the Rev. Dr. Wilbur Chapman, who is at the head of the remarkable evangelistic movement now in progress in Philadelphia, was pastor of a Presbyterian church in the Quaker City some years ago, a prominent Pittsburger called to see him. The minister's little daughter came to the door, and when the caller inquired if he could see Dr. Chapman she replied: "Father cannot see you now. He is talking with God."

Dr. Chapman has a wonderful power over great assemblages of people, which is attributed to the fact that he possesses an earnestness very much like that of the disciples who went out from Jerusalem after the day of Pentecost to bring the heathen to the foot of the cross. "I believe," said the evangelist recently, "that there is to be, or, rather, that there has already begun, a worldwide religious awakening and that the best period of the whole history of the church lies just ahead."

The evangelist is so absorbed in the cause in which he is engaged and so confident of its success that his hope and faith are catching. He depends a great deal for the effectiveness of his gospel campaign on generalship. He marshals a great army of workers, divides up the territory to be covered and gives each group of ministers and laymen a particular district and a special plan of operations, and then all go forward on the lines laid down.

Dr. Chapman is a native of Indiana, is forty-nine years of age and is a graduate of Lake Forest university and of Lane Theological seminary. He gave up a leading pastorate in New York and a large salary to take up the evangelistic work in which he is now engaged and in which his income is about half what he formerly enjoyed.

It was only a short time ago that Dr. Chapman formed a sort of gospel partnership with the singing evangelist, Charles W. Alexander, who was for some time engaged in mission campaigns with Dr. Reuben A. Torrey. He led the singing by the great choir of 3,000 in Albert hall, London, during the English mission services of two years ago. At that time his sweet voice could be heard over all the others in the farthest corner of the big hall. It was at this time that his "Glory Song" became famous, a song that has brought tears to thousands of eyes and turned many a wanderer from the heavenward road on to the right path. Millions of copies of it have been circulated. Another of his songs that has been widely sung is "Tell Mother I'll Be There." A few days after he first sang it in Albert hall Mr. Alexander received the following letter:

REV. DR. CHAPMAN AND MR. ALEXANDER.

Dear Mr. Alexander—I feel that I cannot let this day pass without in some measure thanking you for the rendering of that beautiful solo, "Tell Mother I'll Be There." I listened with great interest to Dr. Torrey's address on "What Shall It Profit a Man" and in some degree was convinced that I was not going straight, but when you sang that hymn I was struck at once, and immediately you had finished I went home to my apartments. I could not sleep at all, but just as the dawn was breaking I returned to the Good Shepherd's fold. I have been away from home some time now and had determined to go home tomorrow and see my mother and tell her the good news. I received the inclosed this morning, and my heart is almost breaking, for I am too late.

The card which was inclosed contained simply these words:

Dear John—Mother died this morning at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Alexander is a native of Tennessee, and his wife is an Englishwoman, formerly Miss Helen Cadbury, daughter of the rich philanthropist, Richard Cadbury, and the two fell in love while doing evangelistic work among the poor of Birmingham. She is a musician and a great help to her husband. Mr. Alexander is noted for his winning smile. He was born in a log cabin, and his parents were an earnest Christian couple who loved music, and it was their custom of gathering their children about them to sing sacred songs, which resulted in one of the group becoming the leading gospel singer of his time.

Education for Citizenship.

Evils in corporation and in individual enterprise will be corrected by strong thinking brains as we move forward. We never shall go backward. What we need is not a riotous clamor against organized capital, but we should develop our young men to a capacity and arouse in them a loyalty that will prepare them to go into Congress and intelligently legislate safe adjustments of these gigantic forces of the times, and the largest possible forms of business in manufacture, trade, and industry to the State and to all the civil rights of men by sound principles of progress and prosperity. The very magnitude of the age has imposed upon man the obligation of presenting to its service his utmost powers. He must be as great as the things he makes and the things he attempts to control. The plain man, the workingman, must be a philosopher and statesman. The means are at hand. The world is full of books. The workingman of our cities could carry home at night the best thinking, the latest discoveries the most practical sciences, the most inspiring discussions of the great questions of the age for about what it cost him that day for his beer. Ten minutes with his minister, his priest, his rabbi, or the school-teacher will give him the necessary hints for wise selection of subjects.

Elks to Bar Colored Men.

Whether or not colored men will be permitted to wear the antler or insignia of the order and call themselves Elks will be one of the most important questions that will come before the state Elks at the reunion to be held in Scranton on May 12th-14th. The national order has already passed on the question and there is no doubt but that those of this state will take similar action.

It is claimed that there is a number of colored organizations in the state that call themselves Elks and wear the antlers and that they are not in any way affiliated with the state or national lodges. It is the purpose to prevent them from being known as Elks, and the manner in which this is to be done will have to be decided at the reunion. Three lawyers were assigned to make a report to this end and it is expected that they will do so at the reunion.

Where is Your Hair?

In your comb? Why so? Is not the head a much better place for it? Better keep what is left where it belongs! Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, quickly stops falling hair. There is not a particle of doubt about it. We speak very positively about this, for we know,

Does not change the color of the hair.

Indeed, the one great leading feature of our new Hair Vigor may well be said to be this—it stops falling hair. Then it goes one step further—it aids nature in restoring the hair and scalp to a healthy condition. Ask for "the new kind."

The healthy old man wears his gray hairs like a silver crown. What if he be threescore and ten if there is still fire in his eye, firmness in his step, command in his voice and wisdom in his council? He commands love and reverence. Yet how few wear the mantle of age with dignity. Dim eyed, querulous of speech, halting in step, childish in mind, they "lag superfluous on the stage," dragging out the fag end of life in a simple existance. The secret of a healter old age is a healthy middle age. The man who takes care of his stomach, who keeps his body properly nourished will find that the body does not fail him in old age. The great value of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery lies in the preservation of the working power of the stomach and other organs of digestion nutrition. From this center is distributed the nourishment of the whole body, the salt for the blood, the lime for the bones, phosphates for the brain and nerves. A sound stomach means a sound man. A man who keeps his stomach sound by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" will wear the crown of gray hairs as befits a monarch, with dignity and ease. Formula printed on wrapper—not a secret, or "patent medicine," but of KNOWN COMPOSITION.

The American Beauty rose and the old Brahma hen don't usually thrive as they ought to on the same lawn—that is, the rose doesn't.

Wherever one finds the silo and the clover or alfalfa meadow a sensible and profitable type of agriculture is pretty likely to be in vogue.

It is thought by many that politics more largely than economics was responsible for the unprecedented slump in hogs during the winter months.

It is claimed that the sweetness and flavor of a good orange may be increased by peeling, quartering and allowing it to stand in a cold place overnight.

Cuss words and blows in the dairy barn mean just so many less dollars in the monthly cream check. There are a lot of farmers who haven't got on to this fact yet.

Alfalfa hay at $15, with five tons raised to the acre, accounts for a large share of the prosperity to be found in those portions of the country where this valuable cereal thrives.

The work in the average town or country home is hard and burdensome enough at best without there being an inadequate or unhandy supply of fuel and of hard and soft water.

Flocks of sheep and substantial fences are to be found on the best farms of the country today. The man who doesn't have either improvement is certainly not living up to his agricultural opportunities.

The hog raiser and the man on a salary both have just ground for a kick with live hogs selling at 4 cents per pound and bacon and hams retailing at from 18 to 22 cents. The gap between the raw and finished product is greater than there is any possible excuse for.

Reports are to the effect that eggs may be kept a long time and in excellent condition by wiping them clean and coating them with lard. While the keeping qualities of the egg may be considerably increased in this way, we question if the method is as effective as the water glass solution.

Some idea of the part old Biddy now and then plays in the busting of the egg trust is gathered from the fact that during a period of about four days in the middle of March 44,570,520 eggs were shipped into the city of New York alone. As a result of this deluge of fine fruit there was a slump in the price of eggs of about 5 cents per dozen.

One of the chief sources of food for the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands is the tuberous root of the taro plant, which somewhat resembles the water lily. The roots of this plant are ground up into pulp and allowed to sour, in which form it is called "poi." The stuff is very sticky, and the natives eat it by sticking their fingers into a dish of it and then licking them off.

That boy is a mighty unsatisfactory and unpromising proposition, both for himself and other folks, who is lazy as all get out, but still insists on having three square meals a day. It is a source of increasing exasperation on the part of those who have to put up with folks of this type that their constitutional inactivity is almost always accompanied by a remarkably sound state of physical health.

A friend the writer knew some years ago fitted himself for the ministry. While possessing sincerity and earnestness to a marked degree, he was so diffident and ill at ease in the pulpit that his health broke down, and as a result he had to quit his pastoral work. He moved on to a farm which he owned and today runs a model dairy, from which he supplies milk to a large number of customers in a nearby town. While he no longer has a pulpit from which to preach, he still has the same opportunity to deal squarely with his fellows and to give "good measure, pressed down and running over."

[illegible] periods of the year, the best time for pruning in the orchard is during April, May and June, as during these months scars that are made most quickly heal over, thereby lessening the possibility that the process of decay will set in at the point of cutting and thus weaken the tree. If the limb cut off is more than an inch in diameter it is well to paint the cut with white lead and oil. All limbs removed should be cut as close as possible to the trunk or main branch, while in removing one of two limbs it is well to remove the one which will leave the cut on the lower side of the main branch rather than the upper and on the side away from the center of the tree rather than on that toward it.

The person who pays his obligations by a check on his deposit in the bank always has at hand an automatic receipt which prevents his paying the same account twice. Of course this situation presupposes a bank account, which is also a pretty good proposition.

It is a very natural instinct perhaps for boys—and this is true of some grown gray headed—to find greater zest in doing a job for one's neighbor than for one's own folks. Perhaps the appreciation they get for the service performed has something to do with the situation described.

There is absolutely no method of protecting from the green goods man, the swindler and grafter the fellow who doesn't read. And, as a rule, the fellow who doesn't read and quite likely doesn't think hasn't the reasoning faculty sufficiently developed to draw helpful deductions from his own experience.

Millet, which is just the thing to sow on the low places on the farm, furnishes a grain supply which, when ground with oats or barley, makes an excellent fattening ration for beef. While millet hay makes a fair roughage ration for cattle if cured at the proper time, it is not so good as timothy, alsike or clover.

It is well for the good housewife to keep in mind that the man of the house and youngsters enjoy a variety of food as do the animals in the barn. She should vary the soda-biscuit-fried-potato-salt-pork ration now and then and give them a surprise. It is more than likely, too, that she herself will enjoy the change of ration. While the change of diet may not make their coats more sleek, it is quite likely to brighten their eyes and whet their appetites.

Where a business man has employment in a city which is easily reached from suburban locations it is desirable from many points of view to have one's home in such a district. Here his family have the sunshine and pure air of the country, while the advantages offered by the city are also available. Moreover, he himself finds a needed relief and relaxation in the quiet of the country surroundings, there being usually enough to do about the place to give him the physical exercise which he ought to have if he would keep in the best trim for his city work.

The view that is held by many folks and one that is common in the speech of a great many more, whether they believe in it or not, is that ice which suddenly disappears in ponds and rivers at the coming of warm weather "sinks." This is a superstition pure and simple, for there is just the same unerring physical law tending to make it float in the spring as makes it stay on the surface of the water when it forms in the early winter. The solution of the phenomenon is not difficult. When a certain point is reached in the melting and rotting of the ice it suddenly disintegrates into millions of tiny spines or needles, which, exposed to the water of a warmer temperature, quickly melt. The only instance in which a body of ice would sink would be when it was mixed with or attached to an amount of dirt or stones which would make its specific gravity more than the water which it displaces, thereby causing it to sink rather than float.

When one is thinking of putting money into this or that enterprise it is always well to view with suspicion a proposition of whatever description which promises more than a legitimate return for the use of one's money. One method that is often followed by the worst type of grafters so as to make investors in their games believe that offers of abnormal returns on the investment are sincere is to return to them two or three large interest payments—just enough to increase the appetite for speculation and cause them to put in still more. In reality these payments are taken right out of the first installment of money sent in rather than being the legitimate return of the investment of such funds in a money making enterprise. But the investor finds, to his sorrow, that subsequent returns are not forthcoming. Even in such cases as the one just cited the abnormal interest return may be safely taken as a danger signal. The wise person will heed it and keep his money where he can put his hands on it.

The growing scarcity of post timber in the United States, coupled with a corresponding rise in price for posts of any description, lends additional force to the necessity of giving posts of whatever kind a preservative treatment which will increase their period of service from four to eight fold. An estimate is made in a recent bulletin on the subject issued by the forest service of the federal government that a fencepost which under ordinary circumstances will last two years will if given a preservative treatment costing 10 cents last eighteen years. Putting this in black and white, the bulletin states that the initial cost of a loblolly pine post is about 8 cents, while the cost of setting is 6 cents. Compounding interest at 5 per cent, the annual cost of such a post, supposing it would last two years, would be 7.53 cents. A preservative treatment costing 10 cents per post will increase its use to eighteen years. In this case the post when set costs 24 cents, which, compounded at 5 per cent, gives an annual charge of 2.04 cents, which makes the saving due to the preservative treatment 5.49 cents a year. In view of these figures every landowner who has fences to build should look up thoroughly this matter of a preservative treatment of posts.

CHARACTER RATHER THAN CASH

A fact that is observable in everyday business life and one that the young man just starting out in his career should take serious account of is that it is the character of the man back of a promise to pay rather than the present or prospective size of his pocketbook or bank account that makes his word and his note good and enables him to borrow money in time of need. To put it another way, it is one's disposition rather than one's ability to pay that is, the largely determining factor in the fixing of his financial responsibility. In the way of illustrating the above truth there come to mind two men, representative of types that are to be found in almost any community. The one who draws a salary of $75 a month is careless in his money matters and makes a business of beating every man with whom he has a financial transaction. This practice, persisted in for years, has become a matter of habit and character, and today he justly deserves the title of "dead beat" in the community. The other man, representative of the opposite type, though receiving but little more than half the salary of the first and having considerably larger legitimate family expenditures, though often pinched financially, has been scrupulously careful to meet all obligations which he has contracted. The result is that today his word is as good as his note, and any one having money to lend lets him have it without asking any questions. It is a matter of congratulation that there are so many of this honest type and so comparatively few of the dead beat stripe. The young man starting out in life has it in his power to say which of the two classes cited he will belong to. He should remember that, while the salary which he may receive is an important factor as affecting his financial status, the character he forms while earning and spending it is an even more vital consideration.

SHALL HE GO IN DEBT?

That depends somewhat on circumstances. If he is a young man of persistence and industry, has no habits which would tend to dissipate his substance or his energies and is endowed with a fair degree of physical health, we should say that he would be justified in assuming a debt of reasonable amount, governed somewhat by his earning capacity and energy. If, on the other hand, he is lazy, has little or no initiative, is a bad manager and is generally listless and indifferent in the things which he undertakes and performs, he would better continue through life in the capacity of somebody's hired man and not assume a larger financial obligation than he can discharge with a month's wages. While going in debt unquestionably imposes a financial burden with more or less anxiety, it also inculcates a habit of saving and a more strict attention to one's receipts and expenditures. With hard work during a period of years, coupled with prudent management, one will find himself in possession of property that will sell on the market for several thousand dollars. Had the opposite course been followed and no debt assumed the same fellow would probably have been working along in much the same rut as at the start, with little or nothing to show for his efforts. Shall he go into debt? Yes; if he's made out of the right stuff.

MORE IRRIGATED LANDS.

On June 1 there will be open for entry under the terms of the Carey irrigation act 75,000 acres of land in Eden valley, in Sweetwater county, Wyo. This is the remaining portion of a tract of 100,000 acres, 25,000 acres of which have already been advertised for entry by the government. The tract in question will be ready for water during the season of 1909, but will be open for entry June 1 next. The entire cost to the entryman is $30.50 an acre, which includes the perpetual water right. An initial payment of $3.25 an acre is required when the entry is made, the remainder being payable in ten annual installments, terms which enable the settler to pay for his land from the crops which he raises thereon. Any person twenty-one years old or over is entitled to the right of entry if he has never made use of the Carey act right. One can make entry for the land without leaving home and without having to go upon the land until after the water is turned on. Thirty days' residence upon the land is required in order to obtain title. Further information relative to the conditions under which the land can be secured may be obtained by addressing the register of public lands, Washington.

AN EXPENSIVE NUISANCE.

There is probably no other single factor on the average farm that is responsible for more expense, vexation and annoyance than the weed pests against which war has to be waged unremittingly year after year. While no one is looking for an agricultural millennium, when weeds will be no more, there are certain means, often overlooked or ignored, which enable the farmer to greatly reduce and hold the weed pest in check. One of these is a careful system of crop rotation, in which clover has a place. Added to this there should be a flock of sheep to browse in the small grain and corn fields as soon as the crops are harvested. These two things—crop rotation and sheep—will go a long way toward [illegible] the weed nuisance and at the same time will mean a more [illegible] and profitable handling of the [illegible]

If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and thereby drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

THE WOMAN WHO COUGHED.

Catarrh had nearly ruined me. It had eaten away the partition in my nose; produced Asthma, Bronchitis, Rheumatism; ruined my stomach; in fact, gone all through my system. Then Grip finished me. I was a wreck; took cold at nothing; and coughed day and night. The doctors dosed me with opium and quinine. No good. Cough "cures"? Bah! Then Brazilian Balm renovated me. Killed every germ. Took 10 $1.00 bottles. Now I'm like a girl of 18.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—The annual session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows of Pennsylvania will meet in Philadelphia during the week of May 17.

—The rooms in Bush Arcade formerly occupied by John P. Lyon have been rented to a Mr. Claster of Lock Haven who will in a short time open a dry goods and clothing store.

—The heavy rains of Thursday morning and forenoon caused Bald Eagle creek to overflow its banks in some places, but not enough to do any damage. Spring creek was up some.

—Some one got into an altercation with one of the gypsies on High street Thursday evening and found out to his sorrow that the man of nomadic traits was a fellow who was not lacking in the pugilistic art.

—Sunday June 14 is the 131st anniversary of the adoption of the stars and stripes as the flag of the United States and that day is designated as Flag Day. Coming on Sunday as it does the day will be celebrated on Monday.

—Passengers on the East Penn railroad between Allentown and Reading were on Monday greeted by the unusual sight of farmers husking corn, which had stood out in the fields all winter. The corn is still in good condition.

—William Walker who was injured some time ago at Gregg siding on the L. & T. railroad by having his buggy hit by the train, is able to walk around, but not strong enough to work on account of the injury to his back.

—Rev. J. Allison Platts has been secured to preach the baccalaureate sermon to the senior class of the Bellefonte high school on Sunday evening, May 24. The graduating exercises will be held during the week beginning on that Sunday.

—Matthew Hemmis and Daniel Ryver, of South Philipsburg were arrested on Monday, charged with larceny. They were given a hearing before Justice Hoffman and in default of $300 bail were brought to jail to await trial at the next term of court.

—Lee Struble of this place has signed as catcher for the Mill Hall baseball team and will in a few days go to that town to reside during the balance of the season. Lee is all right behind the bat and we promise the Mill Hall boys that he will make good.

—"Barring any extreme shock or injury the state of Delaware will have the largest peach crop for fifteen years," said Prof. Wesley Webb, of the State Board of Agriculture. Deleware's crop should reach nearly 4,000,000 bushels if favorable conditions continue.

—A million salmon fry were distributed in the river at Williamsport on Tuesday, and 750,000 in Lycoming creek. Large numbers were placed in the Susquehanna river in previous years but very few are ever caught. The small fry are usually eaten by the German carp.

—A neat little schedule has been issued by the Centre—Clinton baseball league in a booklet form. The schedules were issued by the league and are sold at 10 cents each which amount goes to the league fund. A copy of the same has been presented to us by a member of the league.

—The Reading railroad has been compelled to put on more repairmen at their shops at Newberry Junction. Shop cars were coming in faster than they could be repaired and had to be stored on sidings. Conditions on the Reading are reported to be improving, the run of freight trains being preceptibly heavier.

—There is a probability that the Pennsylvania Telephone Company will establish a telephone exchange at Spring Mills. The business of the Bell company on the south side of the country has grown to such an extent that to give the patrons the best service a fourth exchange is the only solution.

—The City Florist stock has been removed from the former location in the Bush Arcade to Eckenroth's and future orders should be left there. They are now taking orders for Memorial day and will be glad to fill as many as want flowers for the occasion. The hot house project has been given up for the present, the firm believing that the amount of business in that line in Bellefonte would not support a green house.

—Many of the telegraph offices which were closed during the past two months; partly on account of the recent legislation reducing the working hours of railway telegraph operators, and because of the falling off of business, are being reopened. Railroad officials say they have no difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of operators to fill the offices, even though the new law has resulted in the working force being increased about one-third.

—The backwardness of the spring has not had any effect on the crop of fish stories.

—The much looked for warm weather came at last and it was just a trifle warmer than many had hoped for.

—Those who have been complaining about the weather may be sure that it will be warm enough before the summer ends.

—This is the time of year when chickens running at large do not agree with newly made gardens. People who keep chickens should provide some kind of a park or coop for them, or never make a howl when a neighbor kills them which he has right to do if the chickens get onto his property.

With a cry of pain the girl fell to the ground in a faint, blood streaming from a badly lacerated left hand which will be crippled for life.

—York county farmers say the strawberries, for which that district has become famous, will be exceptionally early and plentiful this year. The spring has been very favorable for their development and the only thing that can damage the crop at this late date will be a superabundance of rain. The late berries are just now in full blossom.

—When the east bound passenger train on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad pulled into the passenger depot Saturday afternoon a large rooster was noticed on the front of the engine. It was found to be wedged in along side the "bull-nose" so tightly that it could not extricate itself and was carried along in that manner while the train was running. It was taken out at the station and given to the fireman on the engine.

—Mr. C. A. Glenn, the Water street photographer, was in his studio Monday for the first time in six weeks. Mr. Glenn has been confined to his bed for over four weeks with pneumonia, and did not venture out until Monday when it was fair and warm. This illness was very hard on the aged gentleman who stated that it had a more enfeebling effect on him than typhoid fever. We are glad that Mr. Glenn is again able to be about and hope he may fully recover from the effects of his recent illness.

—Arthur and Wm. Thomas while out fishing Wednesday morning caught two nice large trout and four smaller ones. The largest one measured 17 inches in length and another one 15½ inches. Altogether they measured 64 inches.

—A burning chimney at the residence of Howard Spangler on East Bishop street caused an alarm of fire to be sent in a few minutes after seven Wednesday morning. The alarm was responded to promptly by the firemen but their services were not needed.

—Miss Blanche Harbst, of Lewistown, had a narrow escape from death Tuesday morning in an attempt to rescue her pet dog from an approaching train. She made a leap for the dog and was struck by the pilot of the engine and hurled to the side of the track.

—The Bellefonte Lumber company has their 75 foot brick stack about completed and the stack building idea seems to be contagious in that vicinity. The Pennsylvania Match Co. has the materials on the ground for the erection of a 90 foot stack upon which work will be commenced soon.

—The teams in the Centre-Clinton baseball league are now known by other names than those of the towns which they represent. The Snow Shoe team is called the "Coal Barons;" Howard the "Millionaires," Beech Creek, the "Red Roses;" Mill Hall, the "Ponies," Orvis, the "Mountaineers;" and Woolrich the "Woolpickers."

—The bail bond of Wm. Montgomery, the recent cashier of the Allegheny National bank of Pittsburg who is charged with having embezzled large sums of money from that institution, has been increased from $50, to $100,000 Securities enough have been turned over by Mr. Montgomery to permit the opening of the bank this morning.

—It may seem strange, but it is a fact, that we can supply the Farm Journal for the balance of 1098, and all of 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912, five years, if you will pay for the Bellefonte Republican one year ahead—both papers for only $1.25. Whether you reap the advantage of this surprising offer depenps on how soon you come forward with the cash.

—Policeman Werner, of Altoona, shot and instantly killed a young man by the name of Chester Reichard in that city early Tuesday morning. Werner was walking his beat when he met Reichard who it is said was slightly intoxicated. The two had some words that made Reichard angry and he turned on the cop who in self defense pulled out his revolver and shot. Reichard dropped to the pavement a dead man.

—The Farm Journal is unlike any other paper. For one thing it prints no quack medical advertisements; for another it takes five-year subscriptions and gets the paper to its subscribers the full time if they are anywhere on this planet, even if they move two or three times; if they die, their heirs get it. Now we have a special clubbing offer of the Farm Journal for the balance of 1908, and all of 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912, five years, for only $1.25.

—The closing banquet of the men's Bible class of the local Y. M. C. A. will be held at the rooms this coming Friday evening at 6 30 o'clock. Following the banquet there will be a specially prepared program as well as a few addresses, toasts, etc. and the evening will be a very interesting one to those who have attended the Bible meetings during the season. All members of the class who intend to be present at the banquet are requested to signify their intentions to the secretary before noon on Thursday in order that all arrangements can be made properly.

Episcopal Convention.

The fourth annual convention of the Harrisburg diocese of the Episcopal church convened in Lock Haven Tuesday afternoon for a session of two days. About sixty clergymen and ninety lay delegates were present at the opening session in the evening. In the afternoon important committee meetings were held and in the evening Bishop J. H. Darlington delivered his annual address in the St. Paul's church to a large congregation. A brief business session was held after the address. Adjournment was then made to the armory where an enjoyable social session was held.

For Tuesday evening's service the clergy and lay deputies assembled at the parish house and formed a procession, headed by the choir of the St. Paul's church. The choir was followed by the laymen holding offices in the diocese, then by the lay representatives of the parishes, then the candidates for orders, the clergy and the bishop.

The program for Wednesday included communion in the St. Paul's church at 8 o'clock in the forenoon. This was followed by a business session at 9:30 o'clock. At 12:30 a luncheon was served at the parish house. Another business session was held at 2 o'clock and Wednesday evening the church club banquet was held at the Fallon house.

The business transacted was mostly of a routine nature and the sessions were open to all who cared to attend.

Woodsman's Leg Broken.

Ellis Bierly of Milesburg had his left leg badly broken at the Dale lumber job at Glen Harris Monday afternoon. It is stated that Mr. Bierly was bringing several truck loads of wood down the hill and was riding on the second truck which was heavily loaded and caused the truck to break. This threw Mr. Bierly from the truck and the wood upon him. By being struck by the brake lever and the wood the man's leg was broken in three places, causing a very painful injury.

He was brought to Bellefonte on the afternoon train from Snow Shoe and taken to the Bellefonte hospital where the injured member received surgical attention. Mr. Bierly has been employed on the Dale lumber job for some time and was one of their valued employes.

Soon after going to work he took suddenly ill and died in a short time.

—The Merry Widow hat is now being used by many instead of an umbrella. With a Merry Widow hat and a rain coat a woman is well protected.

FREDERICK BOWER.

Howard Township Resident Chokes to Death While Eating Dinner.

While eating his dinner Monday noon Frederick Bower, who made his home with Theophilus Pletcher in Howard township, choked to death on a piece of fish. Owing to an affliction of the throat Mr. Bower was subject to spells of strangulation and it is thought that this made the choking more liable to happen to him than to a well person.

Frederick Bower was born at Mt. Eagle about 55 years ago and has resided in Howard township all his life. Since the death of his wife, about 16 years ago, he has made his home with Theophilus Pletcher, a short distance west of Howard. He was a member of the Disciple church and also of Washington Camp No. 518 P. O. S. of A. of Howard.

Surviving him are the following children: John and Harry of Altoona, Eliza who made her home in Bellefonte, and William of Mt. Eagle. One sister, Mrs. Mary Helman, of Camp Branch, Mo., and one brother Samuel C. Bower of Howard also survive.

The funeral will be held Thursday forenoon at 10 o'clock from the home of Theophilus Pletcher, and services will be conducted by Rev. M. C. Frick of Mill Hall. Interment will be made in the Schenck cemetery.

James Shook a Winner.

Regarding the part taken in the Juniata—Waynesburg debate of which mention was previously made the Huntingdon New Era gives an excerpt of the address of James Shook, a Bellefonte boy. The same team won over the Bridgewater, Va., team on the negative side of the question. The New Era said:

Upon James A. Shook, Juniata's second speaker, fell the duty of proving that the establishment of a central national bank will remove the fundamental defect of our currency system—that elasticity, which is due to three causes. The first of these is the artificial relation of the United States treasury to our mometary system; the second is a rigid government bond-secured currency and the third is the lack of any system of rediscounting commercial paper.

The central national bank will remove these three causes for it will remove the United States treasury to our mometary system, turning the public funds back into the channels of trade as in other countries, and it will provide a system by which the funds will be distributed automatically. It will remove the bond-secured currency on gold and assets, as the European banks do so base their currency. It will also provide a system for rediscounting of commercial paper which would cause our currency to expand and contract automatically according to the business needs of the country in that it would enable local banks to turn paper into cash at any time.

Shook went on to prove that the central national bank will economize and make more effective the gold reserve, for with such a bank a smaller gold reserve will be needed and the reserves could flow into the channels of trade where needed.

He also maintained that such a bank would prevent other evils by controlling the interest rates, for it could, by raising the discount rate on outstanding loans in times of stress, compel liquidation. It could also, by raising the interest rates, prevent borrowing and speculation in times of tight money and could protect the gold of the country from deportation. His last argument was that the central national bank could give unity and strength to our banking system, for by working for and with the local banks of the country, its banking powers could be thrown where needed.

Hospital Sunday.

Sunday was hospital day at the Bellefonte Methodist Episcopal church and was appropriately observed by the pastor who preached a very fitting sermon in the morning, his theme being "Faith and Works." In the evening he preached from the text "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Both sermons were very appropriate and the preacher clearly set forth the need of present day hospital work and gave a graphic illustration of the vast amount of good work being done at present in comparison to the work's of simple faith performed in the time of Christ. At both morning and evening services subscriptions were received for the benefit of the Methodist hospital in Philadelphia and the Bellefonte hospital, the amount of the subscriptions being divided equally between the two institutions.

Freight Wreck at Julian.

A freight wreck occurred at Julian about 5 o'clock Saturday morning in which three cars were somewhat damaged. Two telegraph polls were torn down, bringing with them the wires and for some time it was not possible to get into communication with the wrecking crew at Tyrone, consequently traffic was delayed for a brief time. The same engine and crew that figured at the recent fatal accident at the Lock Haven depot were in this wreck.
